

MEET NANCY PORTER

Nancy Porter received her MS in Science Education and taught for 43 years in the Iowa City Community School District, grades pre K through 6, subbed in Jr and Sr High, and supervised student teachers for the U of Iowa for 3 years. While President and most offices for the Iowa City Education Association during active teaching years, she had always been concerned and interested in our environment. This led her to work with the Sierra Club, the Isaac Walton League, World Wildlife Fund, Nature Conservancy, Greenpeace, and teach environmental education.

Now, she serves with the LWV, One Mississippi, National Education Association, and more. In 2024, she was the recipient of the Iowa State Education Association Sue Wiele Retired Activist Award. Nancy is also a supporter and attendee of Des Moines Performing Arts (Hancher Auditorium, Iowa City Riverside Theatre), Hawkeye Women Basketball season ticket holder, and mother of two beautiful daughters married to college professors and five perfect grandchildren.
